

Co-Teach

At-home Learning, Coaching and Support

Co-Teach works alongside caregivers and families, the organizations that employ them, and the schools that partner with them, providing support and coaching to enhance at-home learning.

Co-Teach Corporate Services

Co-Teach is pleased to offer workshops, consulting, and coaching designed to increase the collective capacity of organizations to support working parents. At Co-Teach, we help organizations take care of their families so working parents can more fully attend to their jobs and also experience success supporting their learners at home. We provide:

- Workshops & Lunch and Learn Sessions: 60 or 90-minute interactive meetings that address key challenges and opportunities for working parents of children in key educational stages (Birth - 3yrs, 4-5yrs, early elementary, late elementary, middle and high school).
- Consulting to Build and Enhance Working-Parent Affinity Groups: Whether you're starting an employee resource group or want to better support existing groups, we can help you design content, rhythms, as well as train and support facilitators to meet your colleagues' needs.
- Individual Employee Coaching: Through 1-1 coaching, working parents will learn how to overcome challenges, minimize stress, and reduce barriers to learning, while promoting better work-life integration. Working parents will be matched with an expert educator based on the age and needs of their learner.

Testimonials

"...I feel so seen right now...you gave me guidance where I had none..."

*- H. Arrendell, Falls Church, MD
Achievement Network, Lunch & Learn Participant*

"My Co-Teacher is the main reason I feel like I can do this (homeschool). I know what my daughter needs and have the resources and help to do it."
